ECLIPSES IN 1889.

There will be five Eclipses this year; three of the Sun and two of the Moon.

The first is a total eclipse of the Sun, January 1st, at 3 o'clock 38 minutes, in the evening. Visible in the United States as a partial eclipse. The Sun sets eclipsed.

The second is a partial eclipse of the Moon, January 16th, in the evening. Visible in Europe, Africa, North and South America, and the Atlantic Ocean. Moon enters shadow at 10 o'clock 18 minutes; middle of the eclipse 12 o'clock 49 minutes on the morning of the 17th; Moon leaves shadow at 1 o'clock 21 minutes.

The third is an annular eclipse of the Sun, June 28th. Invisible here. Visible in Southern Africa and the Indian Ocean.

The fourth is a partial eclipse of the Sun, July 12th, at 3 o'clock in the evening. Therefore invisible here. Visible in general throughout Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and Atlantic Ocean.

The fifth is a total eclipse of the Sun, December 22d, at 12 o'clock 21 minutes in the morning. Invisible here. Visible in South America, Atlantic Ocean and portions of Central America and the Island of Cuba.

JUPITER (♃) IS CALLED THE GOVERNING PLANET THIS YEAR.

CENTENNIAL ALMANAC FOR 1889.

JUPITER IS THE RULING PLANET THIS YEAR.

THE YEAR IN GENERAL.—Will be tolerably good, yet more humid than dry; but like Saturn its predecessor, with long winter and terrible cold, it will be late so that grain and seed will grow at least three weeks later than in other years.

SPRING.—Until the 1st of May it will be cold and damp; in the middle for ten or twelve days, temperate and thawing weather; after until the end, cold and damp.

SUMMER.—The beginning will be cold and damp, in the middle it will be good, interspersed with much thunder; at the end, quite warm. If in this year the Summer be dry, which scarcely happens in twenty-one years, the grain will be dear. If an Eclipse of the Sun occurs in February, March, April or May, the Summer will be dry.

FALL.—Will have an abundance of rain.

WINTER.—The beginning will have a few days quite cold and much snow; the latter part will be quite mild, without snow, yet very windy.

SPRING CROPS.—This will be a good year for barley. If the Summer be not dry, the quality and yield will be good. A good supply should be provided, as in the two following years little is to be expected. Oats, peas and millet will be a light crop. Flax and hemp will be small but good. Hay and aftermath will be good, but not in all places; so also with cabbage and turnips. There will be but little hay, straw and fodder in the two subsequent years, therefore good provision should be made in this year.

FALL CROPS.—Sheep must be kept off both Spring and Fall crops. Even if sheep are not pastured on the grain in the Spring it will be late. Notwithstanding Jupiter is inclined to moisture, the grain, oftentimes in this year, will be later than usual.

FALL-SEEDING.—It is better to sow early, even if the Winter set in late, especially wheat, on account of the rough, dry Spring, which will follow; if the grain should grow too rank, which it seldom does, it may be pastured by sheep.

FRUIT.—There will be but little fruit, and corn, no acorns, and few beech nuts.

HOPS.—Yield light, but very good.

GRAPE CULTURE.—In twenty-eight years it seldom occurs once that in Jupiter's reign there will be choice wine, but little and sour: if adverse aspects interrupt, the Fall will be late, and wine will be inferior. The vines need not be covered early, as the winter will be late setting in, yet it must not be neglected, for after Candlemas there will be much sleet. If an eclipse of the Sun occurs in February, March, April or May, when Jupiter, Mars or the Sun rule, the wine will be good.

EIGHTEEN EIGHTY NINE.

THERE is nothing so valuable, passes away so rapidly and is so little noticed as time. Days, weeks, months, and years, flit by us as dreams. In their opening they seem long, but as they close we are surprised at their shortness, and the little—the very little accomplished. And yet a year, comparatively speaking, is a long period of time, affording great possibilities for doing good. It is an important division of time and is sufficiently long for great changes to take place. In it we have the four seasons, winter, spring, summer, and autumn. During these seasons we have time for sowing and reaping, and for the growth, flowering, and maturing of all the vegetables and cereals necessary for the life and well being of man and beast.

Since publishing our last Almanac another year has passed away and we are now preparing for 1889. In doing this some of the scenes of the past crowd in upon us, and we remember without an effort. There are some things come to us affording much pleasure while others give us great sorrow. First of all the Lord has blessed us as a nation, as a people, as a church, and as individuals.

As a nation, we have had a year of peace—no great national disturbance or distracting wars, and our relation with other nations has been peaceful, brotherly and advantageous.

As a people, we have been blessed with good government, a good season, and in most of the States, an abundant harvest with a good demand for all productions. Notwithstanding we had a good share of labor troubles, yet there was ample employment for all with a fair remuneration for services rendered so there was no cause for suffering for the necessities of life on the part of laborers and the honest poor.

The church, too, has had her seasons of rejoicing, although the great work was not pushed with the life and energy commensurate with the importance of the cause. We were blessed with peace, having had among us no serious internal strife. And while our numerical growth was encouraging we hope some advancement has been made in spiritual growth. Our missionary efforts are growing stronger, widening out, becoming more effective and receiving more encouragement from the membership. A very important annex has been made to the work in the provision made to assist in building churches in cities and towns and where needed. The educational work, as conducted by the church, has also been encouragingly advanced during the year. The three schools that were before founded seem to be in a prosperous condition, and the new one started has a fair promise for success. This gives the church four schools of collegiate pretensions, and well located. The Bridgewater Normal, in Virginia, the Normal College, at Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, Mt. Morris College, Illinois, and the McPherson College, Kansas. These, located as they are, afford convenient facilities for all who wish to attend schools of an advanced grade and should receive a large patronage.

As individuals, we have been blessed financially, intellectually, and religiously, having had fair facilities for the enjoying of all these advantages, so that on the whole we have had much during the year, for which we should be thankful.

Then, too, we have had our crosses and losses which the passing of time always makes. Death has been doing its work, and has taken from us some of our choice ones. Sad has been our own experience in the removal of Eld. James Quinter, the head of our Publishing Firm, the Elder of our church, the President of our school, and one among the greatest ministers of the Church. We deeply feel our bereavement, but try to realize that what has been our loss is his great gain. His life has been a blessing to us, to the church and to the world, and though he is dead he yet speaketh.

By all the experiences and providences through which the Lord has led us, let us try and get wisdom, that our work may be well done, that our end may be the end of the righteous, and that the world may be the better for our having lived in it.

“THE PEACE.”

Every morning compose your soul for a tranquil day, and all through it be careful often to recall your resolution, and bring yourself back to it, so to say. If something discomposes you, do not be upset or troubled; but having discovered the fact, humble yourself gently before God, and try to bring your mind into a quiet attitude. Say to yourself, “Well, I have made a false step; now I must go more carefully and watchfully.” Do this each time, however frequently you fall. When you are at peace use it profitably, making constant acts of meekness and seeking to be calm even in the most trifling things. Above all do not be discouraged; be patient; wait; strive to attain a calm, gentle spirit.—De Sales.

"SEEK AND YE SHALL FIND."

KING Alfred's prayer: "O Thou who art the Father of that Son which has awakened us, and yet urgeth us out of the sleep of our sins, and exhorteth us that we become Thine, * * * Thee I seek: Thee I will follow: Thee I am ready to serve. I pray Thee to command me as Thou wilt."

You cannot imagine the feeling of the energy of daily life applied in the real meaning of those words. You cannot imagine it, but you can prove it. Are any of you willing, simply as a philosophical experiment in the greatest of sciences, to adopt the principles and feelings of these men of a thousand years ago for a given time, say for a year? It cannot possibly do you any harm to try, and you cannot possibly learn what is true in these things without trying. If after a year's experience of such method you find yourself no happier than before, at least you will be able to support your present opinions at once with more grace and more modesty; having conceded the trial it asked for, to the opposite side. Nor in acting temporarily on a faith you do not see to be reasonable, do you compromise your own integrity, more than in conducting, under a chemist's directings, an experiment of which he fortells inexplicable consequences. And you need not doubt the power you possess over your own minds to do this. Were faith not voluntary it could not be praised and would not be rewarded.

If you are minded thus to try, begin each day with Alfred's prayer,—Thy will be done; resolving that you will stand to it, and that nothing that happens in the course of the day shall displease you. Then set to any work you have in hand with the sifted and purified resolution that ambition shall not mix with it, nor love of gain, nor desire of pleasure more than is appointed for you; and that no anxiety shall touch you as to its issue, nor any impatience nor regret if it fail. Imagine that the thing is being done through you, not by you; that the good of it may never be known, but that at least, unless by your rebellion or foolishness, there can come no evil into it, nor wrong chance to it. Resolve also with steady industry to do what you can for the help of your country and its honor, and the honor of its God; and that you will not join hands in its iniquity, nor turn aside from its misery; and that in all you do and feel you will look frankly for the immediate help and direction, and to your own consciences, expressed approval of God. Live thus, and believe, and with swiftness of answer proportioned to frankness of the trust, most surely the God of hope will fill you with all joy and peace in believing.

—John Ruskin.

HOW TO KINDLE A FIRE.

TAKE any kind of soft wood well dried and easily split. Saw it three or four inches in length and split it up into sticks half an inch or less in thickness. Set your sticks on ends in a can—a quart can will do—pour on carbon oil until the sticks are half their length in the oil and set the can away. When you want to start a fire take two, three, or four of your little sticks, lay them in the bottom of your stove where you can reach them with a match from below. Next pile on coarser wood, leaving openings for the fire to get through. If it is to be a coal fire put on lump coal, and if in a cook stove put on the griddles, and last of all touch your oil sticks with a match below, and put on full draft. These simple methods, if rightly followed, are very little trouble, will never fail, and never fill the room with smoke. The not uncommon practice of having an oil can about the stove to kindle a fire, is dangerous, wasteful, and annoying on account of gas; while your little oil sticks are perfectly safe and convenient. It is lazy to kindle a fire on top of a pile of coke, and utterly needless to fill the room with smoke and gas, by kindling the fire before the coal is on and the griddles in their places.

THE ALFRED SHAKERS.

ONE of the first Shaker societies in this country was organized in Alfred, Maine, ninety-four years ago, and at the present time its members are looked upon with mingled respect and curiosity by those not familiar with their home life. The village is pleasantly situated upon the east bank of Shaker Pond, so-called and all the fields look well tilled and compare favorably with those of any other farming community. The oldest building in the village is the church, a gambrel-roofed structure, with green painted doors and blinds, which was erected in 1792, and is good for another century. In fact, its roof is now covered with the original hand-shaved cedar shingles, which on the steepest part are good yet for a number of years. Around this church are clustered the other buildings of the society, and the larger part of the 1200 acres of land it owns. At the present time the society numbers only about sixty members, two-thirds of whom are females. At times past there has been about three hundred members, but death has been an occasional visitor, and during the forty-nine years that Elder Vance, the present head of the society, has been connected with it, about one hundred members have passed over to the majority. The good living and regular habits enjoyed by the Shakers are so conducive to longevity that of the last fifty persons who have died in this society the average age has been seventy years. The oldest member at present is Merrill Bailey, who has seen eighty-five summers, seventy-three of which have been passed in his present house. He is still well preserved and promises to retain his faculties for several years longer.

Odd and curious as is the belief and practice of the Shakers—the literal interpretation of the Bible and the living apart of the sexes—there are many things about the people that are commendable. Their living is of the best, plain and wholesome food—no pork having been eaten since 1847—and of great abundance. Their houses, buildings and lands are models of neatness, with frugality and economy everywhere apparent. But no one over-works, and there is a freedom among them which other communities do not often enjoy. All with them is not sombre and long-faced, but instead all have the appearance of enjoying their life, Elder Vance himself, though possessing a quiet dignity, being withal one of the pleasantest gentlemen we have ever met. None of the members take any part in politics, though being well read in the current events of the day. From the first of June till the first of October the Sunday meetings of the of the society are open to the public, and there is generally a good attendance of those belonging to the “world’s people,” as the outsiders are called. On the first Sunday of the public meetings there is usually a larger attendance than the church can accommodate, there being a peculiar belief abroad that the services on that day are of a special character instead of the regular order.

SUPPOSE you had been accustomed every day of your life to seek and obtain an interview with the Czar of Russia. This interview you have never had in your own person. You have been obliged to go to the high chamberlain, and pay him a considerable sum. He then led you into a hall whose magnificence awed you. Here he left you kneeling while he entered the throne-room, into which you might not glance, on penalty of death. There he preferred your request, and thence he returned with the monarch’s reply. One day as you approach the palace, in place of the stately chamberlain standing to receive you, a young man runs forth to meet you. He takes your hand, saying, “Come, father is waiting for you.” He is the Czar’s son. The heir. The beloved of his father. He leads you by a new and straight way directly to the sovereign’s private cabinet, and influences you to talk with him as a child to his parents.

This is the difference here described between the old and the new covenant, or coming together of God and man.—Wm. Burnet Wright.

BIOGRAPHY OF ELD. ELIAS CAYLOR.

HIS father, John Caylor, came to this country when but sixteen or seventeen years old, from Frankfort on the Main, in Germany. He, with two sisters, landed in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1763. Was sold for his passage across the ocean for three years, to a man by the name of Lichty, a farmer living in the vicinity.

At the expiration of his indenture, he married Magdalena Barnhart, and moved to Botetourt county, Va. Nine children were born to this union; five sons and four daughters. Death entered his home soon after this, taking away the companion of his youth. Two or three years later he married Salome Kinsey, whose mother had been stolen by hostile indians, prior to the war of the revolution, and had lived in captivity for seven years, but had been restored to her friends by a treaty of peace, and afterwards married Kinsey, whose daughter Salome, now became the second wife of John Caylor.

In order to avail himself of the facilities for securing a home, which the new country afforded, John Caylor and family emigrated from Virginia, to what is since known as the Miami Valley, in the state of Ohio, about the close of the last century, where the subject of this sketch Elias Caylor, was born May 22, 1805, and said to have been the first white child born west of the Miami River. The country, at that time almost an unbroken forest, afforded but limited school privileges. He attended the district school but two weeks, but by industry and perseverance, learned to read fairly well, and acquired the art of writing sufficient for the transaction of the ordinary business of the times.

In December, 1825, he was married to Sarah Umberger. Ten children were born to them; eight of whom are yet living. Father and mother Caylor have lived together as husband and wife nearly sixty-three years. They attached themselves to the Brethren or German Baptist church in November, 1827. About the year 1837 they moved to the Nettle Creek church, Henry county, Ind. In 1842, he moved into the Upper Fall Creek church, same county, where he was elected to the office of deacon, May 16, 1843, and on March 30, 1844, he was elected to the ministry. Preached much in the above named church, including Lower Fall Creek church, and Hamilton county, Ind. In 1849 or 50, he moved to Hamilton Co., Ind., to a few scattered members, which was the nucleus of the now called Stony Creek church. He was the only minister among those members until they organized and elected the proper officers to carry on the work more successfully. In 1857 he was ordained to the full ministry, and was the leading spirit in laying the foundation and building up of the Cicero Creek church, Beech Grove church, Hancock county church, and often preached in Montgomery county, Ind., where he baptized our esteemed brother R. H. Miller.

He took great pains to fill all calls for preaching that he could. Traveled much on horseback, as it was the best mode of traveling in their pioneer life. At all times an uncompromising advocate of the faith and practice of the Brethren. One of his strong characteristics is his devotion to the cause of the Master. The lesson of his life is as a torch, a beacon light, to a grateful Brotherhood.

D. S. CAYLOR.

THE CHURCH AND THE WORLD.

SUPPOSE the church should succeed in winning the world to itself by making itself like the world, how much better would the world be than it was before? None; but the church will be in vastly worse condition than it was before. So, by pandering to worldly tastes, the church has all to lose and nothing to gain.

The Christian verb is "we know," not "we hope, we calculate, we think," but "we know." And it becomes us to apprehend for ourselves the full blessedness and power of the certitude which Christ has given to us by the certainties which he has brought us.

DESCRIPTION OF CHRIST.

THE following beautiful description of our Saviour is said to have been found in a manuscript written by Lucius Lentulus President of Judea, to the Roman Senate, and is well worthy of preservation by those who are his followers at the present time:—

“There is at present a man in Judea of a singular character whose name is Jesus Christ. The barbarians esteem him as a prophet but his followers adore him as the immediate offspring of the immortal God. He is endowed with such unparalleled virtue as to call back the dead from the grave, and heal every kind of disease with a word or touch. His person is tall and elegantly shaped, his aspect mild and reserved. His hair flows in these beautiful shades which no united colors can match, falling into graceful curls before his ears agreeably touching on his shoulders and parting on the crown of his head, like the head-dress of the Nazarenes. His forehead is smooth and large; his cheeks, without spot are of a lovely red; his mouth and nose are finished with exquisite symmetry; his beard is thick and suitable to the color of his hair, reaching a little below his chin and parting in the middle like a fork; his eyes are large bright and serene. He rebukes with mildness and invites with most persuasive language.

“His whole address whether in words or deeds being elegant, grave, and strictly characteristic of an exalted being. No one has ever seen him laugh but the whole world beheld him weep and so persuasive are his tears that no one can refrain from joining in sympathy with him. He is modest temperate and wise and whatever the phenomenon may turn out in the end, he seems a being of excellent beauty and divine perfection—in every respect surpassing the children of men.”

THE COTTAGE AT BETHANY.

THERE was one house where Jesus went very often,—the cottage of Mary and Martha and Lazarus, at Bethany. There He lived not merely a social but a domestic life,—not merely a life of society, but a life of home. In that house, brotherhood and sisterhood bloomed into such perfect flower that it has been fragrant and beautiful to all the generations. They were religious people. No doubt each of them in solitude strove after and found the brotherhood of God. But we can well imagine that when they were together it was their brotherhood and sisterhood that was most prominent. And what did Jesus do for them? Silver and gold, like His disciple, He had none; but such as He had, His own supreme consciousness, such as He was, He gave to them. One day He told the anxious elder sister that there was a “better part” in life than the most faithful work for the comfort of brother and sister. He taught her His own lesson, that man doth not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God his Father. On another solemn day He allowed the household life to feel the shock of death and to be broken, in order that He might call upon His Father and their Father to restore it by what was like to a new birth. And as the coming of a child into a household breaks open its narrowness to let in the broad thought of God, so the brotherhood and sisterhood of Bethany must have been deepened and filled with the consciousness of sonship and daughtership, whenever that boy-man—young forever with something of perpetual youth of those who have passed through the grave and come out in the timeless life beyond—went about among them.

REWARD SURE.

THE slightest service will not miss its reward at the judgment seat of Christ. A cup of cold water given in his name will not be passed by unnoticed. But best of all will it be to hear the Master say, “Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord.” Reader, do you daily seek to do some service for the Master? Are you entitled to be called a faithful servant?

"MORBUS SABBATICUS."

MORBUS Sabbaticus, or Sunday-sickness, is a disease peculiar to church members. The attack comes on suddenly every Sunday. No symptoms are felt on Saturday night. The patient sleeps well, and awakes feeling well; eats a hearty breakfast, but about church time the attack comes on, and continues until the services are over for the morning. Then the patient feels easy and eats a hearty dinner. In the afternoon he feels much better, and is able to take a walk, talk about politics, and read the Sunday papers; he eats a hearty supper, but about church time he has another attack, and stays at home. He retires early, sleeps well, and wakes up Monday morning refreshed and able to go to work, and does not have any symptoms of the disease until the following Sunday. The peculiar features are as follows:—

1. It always attacks members of the church.
2. It never makes its appearance except on the Sabbath.
3. The symptoms vary, but it never interferes with the sleep or appetite.
4. It never lasts more than twenty-four hours.
5. It generally attacks the head of the family.
6. No physician is ever called.
7. It always proves fatal in the end, to the soul.
8. No remedy is known for it except prayer.
9. Religion is the only antidote.
10. It is becoming fearfully prevalent, and is sweeping thousands every year prematurely to destruction.

General Church Erection and Missionary Committee of the Brethren or German Baptist Church.

THE object of this committee is, and shall be to build, or assist in building, plain houses of worship, and to send suitable brethren to preach the Gospel, distribute tracts, and to organize and build up churches where there are favorable openings; all expenses, both of committee and of brethren sent out on church work, to be paid out of the collected funds.

The following brethren compose the committee: Daniel Vaniman, Foreman; D. L. Miller, Secretary and Treasurer; G. B. Royer, Assistant Secretary; John W. Price, Chas. Hawbecker, and S. Riddlesperger.

All communications should be addressed to the secretary, D. L. Miller, Mt. Morris, Ill., who will also take pleasure in sending the Annual Report of the Mission Work, to those interested, on receipt of stamp to defray postage. Blank forms for endowment notes, bequests, etc., sent on application.

All contributions, &c., intended for the publishing and distribution of tracts, should be addressed to the Brethren's Tract Work, Dayton, Ohio.

THE SAME REWARD.

THE simple, unostentatious, unlearned Christian is just as acceptable to God as the more cultured fellow-worker. Both are striving for the same end. Both trust that eternal happiness is to be his, after the trials and cares of earthly life. But when one is compelled, by reason of knowledge and superior intellect, to feel and know more keenly sorrows and humiliations, may he not, by the reverse law, drink deeper of pleasures and joy? Can not superior wisdom do as much for itself as against itself? If you look back over the history of the Church, you will find that God was best served by those who had most carefully cultivated their mental powers—by Moses, skilled in all the learning of the Egyptians; by Paul, master of all the learning of his time, and a good tent and sail-cloth maker, besides; and later by Luther, Wesley, Edwards, and many more learned men.

Our faith in the historic evidences of Christianity may be shaken at times by those doubts and fears to which all Christians are exposed; our creeds may be assailed or undermined; our ecclesiastical system may be exploded into fragments; but nothing shall ever deprive us of Christ if he be in "us the hope of glory."

A WORD TO BOYS.

MANY people seem to forget that character grows; that it is not something to put on ready-made, with manhood or womanhood; but day by day, here a little and there a little, grows with the growth, and strengthens with the strength, until, good or bad, it becomes almost a coat of mail. Look at a man of business—prompt, reliable, conscientious, yet clear-headed and energetic. When do you suppose he developed all these admirable and desirable qualities? When he was a boy. The boy who is late at breakfast, late at school, stands a poor chance to be a prompt man. The boy who neglects his duties, be they ever so small, and then excuses himself by saying, “I forgot! I didn’t think!” will never be a reliable man. And the boy who finds pleasure in the sufferings of weaker things, will never be a noble, generous, kind man—a gentleman.

ON THE SIMPLICITY OF DRESS.

[From a publication in “The Maryland Journal and Baltimore Advertiser,” dated August 20, 1773.]

“That a plain dress is the best ornament of a beautiful woman I had lately a most convincing proof. The neatness of a daughter of that religious sect called Quakers, in one of the public walks, caught my eye—never was innocence and elegance more sweetly portrayed. But when I had an opportunity of beholding her face, my astonishment and delight were inexpressible. Her complexion was lovely, her eyes sparkling, her teeth and lips such as a Reynolds only can imagine, and her smile an emanation of divinity. I contemplated her person with a pleasure till then unknown, and should have pronounced her the most finished work of heaven, but that it occurred to me, that many of my fair countrywomen appeared inferior to her from only not being satisfied with what heaven had made them—tortured hair, a superfluity of ribbands, idea jems, &c., &c., were, though meant for so many additions, only so many disadvantages to them, by preventing the eye from judging rightly of their charms, or indeed beholding them through the happiest of all mediums—the medium of simplicity. In short, I am convinced that some Deity, in her wrath, suffered them to be betrayed into this dressing folly; from which I most heartily wish that some sensible mortal would endeavor to reclaim them.”—A lover of Nature.

THE PERFECT MAN.

MAN was never meant to live only on one line, to grow only in one direction; his life may be rich and full, valuable and happy, if he but understands the laws of his being, and feels his higher nature as sedulously as he does his physical. As the wise health-seeker remembers to fill his lungs with pure and fresh air, so men must let their minds and hearts ever draw in the mental and spiritual atmosphere which they need for their best development and their high influence.

HEALTH HINTS.

Sprains and bruises call for an application of the tincture of arnica.

If an artery is severed tie a small cord or handkerchief tightly about it.

For bilious colic, soda and ginger in hot water. It may be taken freely.

Tickling in the throat is best relieved by a gargling of salt and water.

Pains in the side are most promptly relieved by the application of mustard.

For cold in the head nothing is better than powdered borax sniffed up the nostrils.

Nervous spasms are usually relieved by a little salt taken into the mouth and allowed to dissolve.

Whooping cough paroxysms are relieved by breathing the fumes of turpentine or carbolic acid. Use with great care.

CONJECTURES OF THE WEATHER.

1st cloudy, cooler; 2d clearing, windy; 3d warm, fine; 4th thunder; 5th clear, warm; 6th great heat; 7th showery; 8th thunder showers; 9th clouds, fine; 10th clear, hot; 11th heavy rains; 12th showers; 13th thunder, hail; 14th thunder showers; 15th cloudy, rainy; 16th fog, clouds; 17th pluvial, wet; 18th cooler; 19th fine and clear; 20th changing, hazy; 21st cloudy, rainy; 22d thunder storms; 23d clouds, rain; 24th cooler, cloudy; 25th pleasant; 26th threatening; 27th variable; 28th showery; 29th thunder, clouds; 30th rain, thunder; 31st cloudy, cool.

Broken limbs should be placed in natural positions, and the patient kept quiet until the surgeon arrives.

Hemorrhages of the lungs or stomach are promptly checked by small doses of salt. The patient should be kept as quiet as possible.

Sleeplessness caused by too much blood in the head may be overcome by applying a cloth wet with cold water to the back of the neck.

Wind colic is promptly relieved by peppermint essence taken in a little warm water. For small children it may be sweetened. Paregoric is also good.

For stomach cramps, ginger ale, or a teaspoonful of the tincture of ginger in a glass of water in which half a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved.

Sickness of the stomach is most promptly relieved by drinking a teacupful of hot soda and water. If it brings the offending matter up, all the better.

A teaspoonful of ground mustard in a cup of warm water is a prompt and reliable emetic, and should be resorted to in cases of poisoning or cramps in the stomach from overheating.

Avoid purgatives and strong physic, as they not only do no good, but are positively hurtful. Pills may relieve for the time, but they seldom cure. Stomach bitters are a snare, and only create desire for stimulants.

Powdered rosin is the best thing to stop bleeding from cuts. After the powder is sprinkled on, wrap the wound with soft cotton cloth. As soon as the wound begins to feel feverish keep the cloth wet with cold water.

• FOR STINGS OF INSECTS AND BURNS.—Four tablespoonfuls lime lye, two tablespoonfuls unboiled lintseed oil, add together and shake well, and it is fit for use. Bathe freely, after on a few minutes, wipe off and bathe again. To make the lye, take a lump of lime the size of a large teacup, scald it so as to get the amount of lye, and let it settle.

SPECIAL DISHES.

ROLLED BEEFSTEAK.—Rolled beefsteak is a very good way of cooking an inferior steak. Take a round steak, beat it and spread it with a dressing such as is used for poultry. Begin at one end and roll it up neatly, tying it to keep it in shape. Put it in a bake-pan with a little water, and bake it until the meat is tender, basting frequently. Thicken the gravy in the pan with a little flour wet with cold water, and season it nicely, adding a little catsup. Cut the meat as you would a berry roll slicing off the ends neatly.—Mrs. C. G. Furbish.

SPICED BEEF TONGUE is a good dish for supper. Make a mixture of half a pint of sugar, a piece of saltpetre the size of a pea, and a tablespoonful of ground cloves; rub this into the tongue. Then make a brine of two quarts of water and three-quarters of a pound of salt; put the tongue into a jar and pour the brine over it. See that the tongue is entirely covered and is kept well under. Let it lie in this pickle for two weeks. Then take it out; rinse it in several clear waters; make a thin paste of flour and water; wrap the tongue in this and put into a dripping-pan to bake. It must bake slowly, and it must be basted frequently with lard and water, or with half drippings and water. When done remove the paste and the skin; let it become cold; then cut into slices, and not too thin slices either.

A DISH OF RARE DELICACY and excellence to serve with cake, is made by putting a thick layer of canned red raspberries into a deep fruit dish, then on the top put one pint of whipped cream with the whites of three eggs, and a teaspoonful of powdered sugar mixed with it, the eggs to be beaten to a stiff froth. If you choose, this meringue may be flavored with raspberry flavor or vanilla. The dish may be prepared with fresh fruit in its season. The canned berries should be drained somewhat, or the juice will endanger the beauty of the dish.

SATURN is in conjunction with the Sun on the 16th, and cannot be seen.

CONJECTURES OF THE WEATHER.

1st thunder showers; 2d high temperature; 3d warm, clear; 4th sunny, clear; 5th great heat; 6th heavy rains; 7th fog, thunder; 8th clearing, cooler; 9th showery, clearing; 10th warm, breezy; 11th sultry; 12th very warm; 13th cloudy, thunder; 14th thunder showers; 15th clouds, cooler; 16th damp, moist; 17th moderating; 18th clouds; 19th changeable; 20th clear, cool; 21st variable; 22d clear, windy; 23d fine, warm; 24th windy, clear; 25th changing, clouds; 26th fine and warm; 27th windy, clear; 28th clouds, rain; 29th damp, rainy; 30th clearing; 31st cool, windy.

FRENCH TOAST.—Beat four eggs very light, and stir with them a pint of milk; slice some baker's bread, dip the pieces into the egg, then lay them in a pan of hot boiling lard and fry brown; sprinkle a little powdered sugar and cinnamon or grated nutmeg on each piece and serve hot.

A GOOD FILLING for a plain layer cake, which is to be eaten while fresh, is made by grating one large tart apple, one lemon grated, and the juice squeezed out; one egg and one cupful of sugar; let this boil for five minutes; stir it constantly.

A PRETTY DISH is made by grating a large cocoanut into a glass dish; cover this with a layer of fruit, and then with whipped cream. Be careful to reject all the brown skin that covers the cocoanut under the shell, it cannot be eaten, and it spoils the looks of the dish.

AN APPETIZING SAUCE to serve with roast beef is made of one tablespoonful of grated horseradish, one teaspoonful of made mustard, one teaspoonful of powdered sugar, four tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Mix them thoroughly.

DELICACIES FOR INVALIDS.

MUTTON BROTH.—To one pound of lean mutton, cut in pieces, put one quart of cold water and let it simmer slowly, when partly cooked, adding one teaspoonful of rice. Cook until tender, then thicken with a little flour and milk, season with pepper and salt, and serve with crackers.

OMELETTE.—Beat an egg thoroughly, add two spoonfuls of milk and pour in a buttered griddle. Then lay on bits of butter, a little salt and pepper—when partly cooked, fold over, and serve.

TAPIOCA CREAM.—Three tablespoonfuls of tapioca soaked in water over night. In the morning stir it into one quart of boiling milk, add two-thirds of a cup of sugar, yolks of three eggs and flavor with vanilla. Make a frosting of the white of the eggs and sugar, and brown in the oven.

ICE CREAM.—One pint of milk, one cup of sugar, two eggs. Let the milk come to a boil, beat the eggs, sugar and flour together, and stir into the boiling milk, cook twenty minutes, stirring often, then set away to cool. When cold, add one quart of cream, one cup of sugar, and one tablespoonful of vanilla. Strain into the freezer.

FRICASSEED CHICKEN.—Cut up the chicken and boil in sufficient water to cover it, until tender. Then take it out, pouring the broth into a separate dish. Butter a frying pan, and when quite hot put the chicken in, and cook until slightly brown—then place toasted crackers in the dish in which it is to be served, lay the chicken in, and pour over the broth, previously thickened and seasoned.

A DELICACY.—Take one pint of milk, and when nearly boiling, add two tablespoonfuls of corn-starch dissolved in a little cold milk with sugar to taste. When thickened like custard, stir in the whites of two eggs beaten stiff. Then make a custard of one pint of milk and the yolks of the eggs, and when cold, turn over the snow. It is also nice with whipped cream poured over it—taking half a bowlful of cream, beating it thoroughly, and when it becomes light and puffy, sweeten it and flavor with vanilla.

CHARLOTTE DE RUSSE.—Very nice. "One quart of sweet cream, half a pound of powdered sugar beaten to a stiff froth. To stiffen the cream boil half an ounce of gelatine in half a pint of milk until perfectly dissolved—as it cools, stir it to prevent its stiffening partially. When cool, stir it quickly into the cream and beat together a few minutes. Line the moulds with strips of sponge cake, put in the cream and set away in a cool place." The following is a good receipt for the sponge cake. Three eggs, one and a half cups of sugar beaten together, two cups of flour, two small teaspoonfuls of cream tartar, one teaspoonful of soda, one-half cup of cold water.

BUSINESS LAW IN DAILY USE.

The following compilation of business law contains the essence of a large amount of legal verbiage:

If a note is lost or stolen, it does not release the maker; he must pay it, if the consideration for which it was given and the amount can be proven.

Notes bear interest only when so stated.

Principals are responsible for the acts of their agents.

Each individual in a partnership is responsible for the whole amount of the debts of the firm, except in cases of special partnership.

Ignorance of law excuses no one.

The law compels no one to do impossibilities.

An agreement without consideration is void.

A note made on Sunday is void.

Contracts made on Sunday cannot be enforced.

A note by a minor is void.

A contract made with a minor is void.

A contract made with a lunatic is void.

A note obtained by fraud, or from a person in a state of intoxication, cannot be collected.

It is a fraud to conceal a fraud.

Signatures made with a lead pencil are good in law.

A receipt for money is not always conclusive.

The acts of one partner bind all the rest.

"Value received" is usually written in a note, and should be, but is not necessary. If not written it is presumed by the law, or may be supplied by proof.

The maker of an "accommodation" bill or note (one for which he has received no consideration, having lent his name or credit for the accommodation of the holder) is not bound to the person accommodated, but is bound to all other parties, precisely as if there was a good consideration.

No consideration is sufficient in law if it be illegal in its nature.

Checks or drafts must be presented for payment without unreasonable delay.

Checks and drafts should be presented during business hours, but in this country, except in the case of banks, the time extends through the day and evening.

If the drawee of a check or draft has changed his residence, the holder must use due or reasonable diligence to find him.

If one who holds a check as payee or otherwise, transfers it to another, he has a right to insist that the check be presented that day, or, at farthest, on the day following.

A note indorsed in blank (the name of the indorser only written) is transferable by delivery, the same as if made payable to bearer.

If the time of payment of a note is not inserted, it is held payable on demand.

ADDENDUM.

By an oversight of the compositor, part of a page of the Ministerial List was omitted, and was not noticed until the edition was printed and some sent out. To remedy the mistake, this addition has been printed and attached to the last page. As far as possible, it will be sent to those who have received the Almanac without the correction. Those who thus receive it, will put a little paste on the left edge of this page and then attach it to the last page of the Almanac.

NORMAL COLLEGE,

HUNTINGDON, PA.

THIS SCHOOL, founded in 1876, and the oldest institution of learning now in operation, established by members of the Brethren church, is still going forward in the same line of work and continues to solicit patronage of the church and all such as wish to send their children away from home to have them educated where they will be surrounded by influences that are desirable, safe, and Christian.

Our location is as desirable as can be found anywhere. Our building is convenient, suitable and comfortable, having the advantages of steam heat and cold and hot water on all the floors.

The course of study is thorough, and the teachers are as good as can be had.

The religious advantages are all that can be desired, and in addition to preaching services twice each Sunday, and a weekly prayer-meeting, we are arranging for a regular course of Bible Study, which we hope will add greatly to the religious advantages of the school. This will be especially so to our young brethren who are desirous of being more fully prepared to engage in Christian labor, and also, our ministers who wish to take a course in biblical and its auxiliary studies as understood, believed and practiced by our own church and people.

The school is on a good and solid financial basis, yet we greatly need an endowment fund to assist poor ministers and other worthy persons, who are very anxious to obtain an education but cannot unless they get some assistance. We are doing all we can in this direction, and if those who are able will help us, we can do much more.

All who think of attending school will please correspond with us and we will gladly send free, catalogues and any other information desired.

FAHRNEY'S BLOOD CLEANSER OR PANACEA.

This is the genuine Fahrney's medicine discovered in 1780. It is the oldest preparation on the market. It sells upon its merits. The testimonials I have from the most responsible members of the church, especially the ministers, should convince all who have not used it.

The particular disease the medicine cures, which term it THE NEVER FAILING FAMILY PHYSICIAN are Impure Blood, Tumors, Abscesses, Carbuncles, Scrofula, Eczema, Scrofulous Rheumatism, Tetter, Skin Disases, Liver Complaint, Kidney Trouble, Lumbago, Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Weakness, Want of Appetite, Prostration, Female Diseases, General Debility.

These diseases all originate in impure blood. People generally suffer from impure Blood, as its impurities by the Liver and system in a healthy condition. It is impure blood in a healthy state. One or two properly used, is a positive purifier of the blood and system.

THE LIVER This organ has very important functions. It is the largest organ of the body, and its unhealthy condition determines the health or sickness of the individual. The liver is familiar with the diseases of the liver, such as loss of

It thus prevents many of the dangers of pregnancy, and greatly lessens the danger of miscarriages if used as a compound, and contains no opiate of any kind, and its use will positively do no harm.

Although it has not been advertised in the public journals to any great extent, its popularity has been rapidly spreading. Over 1200 druggists and physicians throughout the north-west have commenced to handle it in the last year, and a half. Where its merits are becoming known, the mothers largely rely on it to heal and soothe the sorrows of motherhood.

Price $1.00 per bottle or six bottles for $5.00. Those needing it should ask their druggist to get it, and thus save express charges. We shall be glad to send circulars giving fuller particulars to any lady asking for them. Address restlessness, bitter taste in the mouth, tongue coated, complexion pale, sallow or yellow. The bowels become irregular, at times constipated, and occasionally diarrhoea manifests itself, with pains similar to colic; towards evening circulation is sluggish, and the feet hands and ankles come cold. These symptoms are not all present in every case; they differ according to the constitution of individuals. If you are subject to any of these, you may rest assured that you have a disordered liver.

The particular disease

THE NEVER FAIL
are Impure Blood, Tumors, Eczema, Scrofulous Liver Complaint, Kidney Constipation, Dyspepsia, Strength, Want of Appetite, Prostration, Female Diseases, General Debility.

These diseases all originate from one cause—disordered blood. People generally are aware that most diseases arise from impure Blood, as its circulation penetrates into every organ and every particle of tissue of the body. It is the life, and is circulated through the entire system by means of the heart, arteries, veins and capillaries, and disposes of the impurities by the Liver and Bowels. In order to keep the system in a healthy condition these organs must be in a healthy state. It is impossible to keep the organs and blood in a healthy state without the assistance of proper treatment. One or two bottles of Fahrney's Panacea, if properly used, is a positive and unfailing means of cleansing the blood and system of all impurities.

THE LIVER.

This organ has very important functions to perform. It is the largest organ of the whole body, and upon its healthy or unhealthy condition depends largely the health and happiness of the individual. Probably nine tenths of the people are familiar with the unpleasant symptoms of a disordered liver, such as loss of appetite, sick stomach, headache,

"A BLESSING TO MOTHERS."

Is the universal verdict of those who have ever used Dr. Wrightsman's Sovereign Balm of Life. This medicine is prepared especially for the use of mothers during the latter months of gestation, and will relieve them in this period of the distress that is so common at such times, such as nervousness, cramps, aches, pains, dizziness, backache, muscular rigidity, numbness of limbs, varicose veins in limbs, and many other unpleasant feelings. It quiets the nerves, gives sweet natural sleep, and hushes to silence the terrible forebodings of approaching confinement. It so assists nature, that the mother's labors are short and easy. In many instances the time is reduced to half an hour or an hour's time, where many hours and days of suffering were endured before, and leaves her strong and well. It thus prevents much unnecessary suffering, and greatly lessens the danger at such time. It will also prevent miscarriages if used in time. It is a pure vegetable compound, and contains no poisonous or dangerous drug, nor any opiate of any kind, and its use will positively do no harm.

Although it has not been advertised in the public journals to any great extent, its popularity has been rapidly spreading. Over 1200 druggists and physicians throughout the north-west have commenced to handle it in the last year and a half. Where its merits are becoming known, the mothers largely rely on it to heal and soothe the sorrows of motherhood.
